

POST-ELECTION SITUATION MONITORING

14.8.2022

The information inscribed herein was collected by Muungano wa Wanavijiji youth from Mukuru, Huruma, Kiamaiko, Naivasha, Nakuru and Kisumu. We are aiming to collect information and report on it every day throughout the election period.

The information presented here captures the current situation and presents the picture of the current realities within the aforementioned settlements.

MUKURU KWA NJENGA

- Residents remain calm as they await the presidential results in earnest.
- Businesses are operational.
- More residents are out in the streets. Children are playing freely outdoors.
- A little tension exists. It's feared a few youths are likely to spur violence.

KIAMAIKO

- The situation remains calm.
- The majority of business owners are reluctant to open their businesses.
- Throughout the past week, most 'matatu' operators closed business. Most are unsure of the current security status.

KISUMU, NYALENDA

- The situation remains calm, though anxiety exists among different groups of people.
- Business and daily activities are ongoing as usual

MUKURU KWA REUBEN

- Normality has resumed. Peace continues to prevail.
- Residents remain eager to receive the presidential results.

NAKURU, PONDAMALI

- The situation within the area remains calm, Majority of residents are out on the streets.
- Businesses have resumed normal operations.

POST-ELECTION SITUATION MONITORING

14.8.2022

The information inscribed herein was collected by Muungano wa Wanavijiji youth from Mukuru, Huruma, Kiamaiko, Naivasha, Nakuru and Kisumu. We are aiming to collect information and report on it every day throughout the election period.

The information presented here captures the current situation and presents the picture of the current realities within the aforementioned settlements.

NAIVASHA

- Situation remains clam as residents await the presidential results.

MUKURU VIWANDANI

- The situation within the area remains calm.
- Parents are uncertain about the reopening of schools. Most look forward to the end of the election process and the reopening of schools.

HURUMA

- The situation remains calm, though some residents remain gathered in smaller groups analyzing the recently ended elections ahead of the announcement of the final presidential results.

